

Instructions for Authors

The Journal Acta Agriculturae Serbica (abbrev. Acta Agric Serb) publishes original scientific papers (4-10 pages), review papers (not exceeding 18 pages), short communications (up to 5 pages) and M.Sc. and Ph.D. theses (shorter versions, not exceeding 15-25 pages) that have not been published elsewhere. The Journal covers the fields of agricultural science, biotechnology, biology and other natural sciences. The Journal is published twice a year.

Manuscripts are published in English (translations should be submitted by author/s, clearly and grammatically written) with short abstracts in Serbian.

The manuscript should be type-written (font size 12), single-spaced, with 25 mm margins. Submissions can be sent by either post (an original hard copy along with an electronic version on a diskette or CD (word.doc) (postal address: Faculty of Agronomy, Cacak, Cara Dusana 34, 32000 Cacak, Serbia) or via e-mail as an attachment in a word.doc (to: lekamg@tfc.kg.ac.yu).

Full research papers should include the following sections:

1. Title with UDC number, author/s name/s, affiliation
2. Abstract, keywords

Main text of the manuscript with sections

3. Introduction
4. Material and methods
5. Results
6. Discussion

(Results and Discussion may be combined into a single section, if appropriate)

7. Conclusions
8. Acknowledgments
9. References

10. Tables and Figures with captions (one per page)

11. Title, Affiliation and Abstract typed in Serbian (for authors from Serbia)

Short communication should include the following sections: Title, Abstract, Key words, Main text, Acknowledgments, References, Tables and Figures with captions.

Title should provide a concise but also an informative synthesis of the study (recommended not more than 100 characters including spaces). Author (s) name should have the first initial and surname (for women authors, full first names should be provided). Author(s) affiliation should be indicated - name and address of institution.

Abstract should be a brief summary of the major points covered in the main paper. It should be in one paragraph only, not exceeding 250 words. Keywords should provide 5-6 words or compound words, suitable for an information retrieval system.

The Introduction section should provide information on current research in the field concerned as well as on the objectives of the study.

The Material and Methods section should provide a clear description of instruments and equipment, machines, devices, chemicals, diagnostic kits, plants/animals studied, technology of growing/housing, sampling sites, software used etc.

The Results section should concisely interpret the data obtained, the observations made and the experiments conducted. Levels of experimental error and the statistical significance of the results should be given. Levels of statistical significance should be indicated as follows: * = $P < 0.05$,  = $P < 0.001$. The International System of Units (SI) should be used.

Discussion can be combined with Results into a single section or it can be a separate section. In the latter case, it should not include any description of results, but should rather provide a comparison of the results presented in the paper with the current knowledge on the issue.

Acknowledgments should be brief and made for specific financial, collaborative and other support in paper preparation.

References should cover all papers cited in the text. The in-text citation format should be as follows: for one author (Milosevic 2004), for two authors (Pavlovic and Kojic 2005) and for more than two authors (Markovic et al. 2007). Use commas to separate multiple citations. Multiple citations should be ordered chronologically. In the case of publications in any language other than English, the original title should be retained. The titles of publications in non-Latin alphabets should be translated and annotation given, e.g. "(in Russian with English abstract)"

The list of references at the end of the text should be arranged alphabetically and set out as in the following examples:

Journal article: Vinkovic T., Iljkic D., Paradjicovic N. (2007): Tomato Cultivation on Coconut Husks Substrate. Acta Agriculture Serbica, 23: 55-60.

Title of journal, abbreviated according to the ISI standards.

Proceedings: Djukic D., Mandic L. (1997): Mineral nutrients for regulating microorganism number and enzymatic activity in the smonitza under wheat. IX Congress of the Yugoslav Society of Soil Research, Faculty of Agriculture, Novi Sad, 411-416.

Book: Bardgett R.D. (2005): The Biology of Soil. Oxford University Press, New York and London.

Book chapter: Emstev V.T., Djukic D. (2000): Adverse effects of mineral nutrients application. In Bojanic M. (eds), Microbiology, Military-publishing Institute, Belgrade, 657-665 pp.

Tables and Figures should be supplied separately, and references in the text to all tables and figures provided. Illustrations should be of printable quality, conforming to the journal page dimensions (120 x 180mm), allowing for the caption and margins.

Reprints: A free copy of the journal will be sent by post to all corresponding authors after publication.

Универзитет у Крагујевцу
Агрономски Факултет Чачак
Цара Душана 34
32000 Чачак Србија
Tel: 032 303 400 Fax: 032 303 401

Дизајн & Хостинг GradacNet